Transform your business with high-impact brand photography

Investing in professional photography can feel like a leap of faith.

Will the images enhance your brand?

Will they deliver a return on the investment?

You need a photographer who not only knows their craft, but also understands your Brand and Business Objectives on a deeper level.

That's where I come in...

Where strategic thinking and visual craft converge

With a background in product marketing and business development, I bring a strategic, results-driven approach to photography — using insights and goals to shape the creative direction, ensuring your visuals grab attention, set you apart, and connect emotionally with your audience.

- Build your brand
- Stand out from the crowd
- Create desire for your products/services
- Craft a compelling story
- Increase engagement
- Inspire more customers

“I had a great experience working with Philip. He was timely and professional, and the results were stunning! The photos elevated my website to the next level and gave me a library of amazing imagery to rotate through and keep things looking fresh.”

Four steps to powerful brand photography

Following a consultation to ensure alignment and fit, I'll guide you through four proven steps to planning, producing, and activating your visuals:

1. INSIGHTS MEETING (3-4 weeks before the shoot)

First, we meet to understand your brand and business objectives:

- Vision, mission, and values
- Target audience and competitive positioning
- Brand, products, and marketing
 - o Benefit: A solid foundation to strengthen your imagery and connect with your ideal customers

2. CREATIVE PLANNING (2-3 weeks before the shoot)

Next, we develop a plan that aligns with your goals:

- Mood board for aesthetic and tone
- Shot list tailored to your story and messaging
- Location, styling, and scheduling
 - o Benefit: A well-prepared shoot that maximizes time and delivers compelling, on-brand imagery

3. PRODUCTION (shoot day + 1-2 weeks post-production)

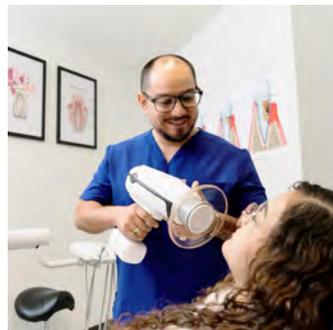

With strategy in place, we move into action:

- A carefully orchestrated photoshoot with professional cameras and lighting
- Live review at tethered workstation
- Post-production curation, color-grading, and retouching
 - o Benefit: A collection of striking, high-impact images tailored to your brand

4. ACTIVATION (final images delivered within 1-2 weeks)

Photography is only as powerful as its application. We'll optimize your imagery for:

- Web, social, email and print
- Digital advertising
- Graphic design and copywriting
 - o Benefit: Maximum ROI — images that don't sit in a folder but actively work to grow your brand

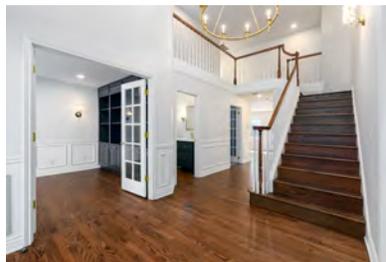

Tailored to your needs and budget

If you're ready to take the next step, brand photography packages begin at $1999 for an On-Location Photoshoot

- Pre-production planning
- Local travel
- Professional cameras and lighting
- Post-production editing
- Curated selection of hero images
- Web and social usage

I stand by my commitment to elevate your brand and deliver results with a  100% Satisfaction Guarantee. If the images don't meet your expectations, I'll re-shoot them at no additional cost. I'm committed to ensuring you only pay for results that truly meet your needs.

“Philip has been instrumental in bringing my business to a new level. His photography shows my work well and he is great to work with. Philip is a great listener and collaborator to align with me in how I want to display my company.”

A creative partner invested in your success

For the last five years, I've helped businesses — large and small — elevate their brand through powerful, strategic photography. From international corporations to local businesses and entrepreneurs, I've delivered imagery that not only looks stunning, but drives results.

Prior to photography, I built a career in product marketing and business development working with some of the world's most coveted brands — experience that shaped my knowledge of branding, and sharpened my eye for visuals that captivate, engage, and convert.

When you work with me, you get more than a photographer — you get a creative partner invested in your success.

“There aren't enough words to describe the excellence that is Philip Hatton. He is one of the best photographers in Portland, amazing with clients, and understands corporate projects. There are a lot of people that call themselves photographers. Philip is a storyteller that always gets the shot and we're lucky to be able to work with him.”

Hi, I'm Philip

Business development, product marketing, and high-impact brand photography are my forte.

Born and raised in England, educated in business and marketing. A tenured career in sports product management would take me from the UK and Europe, to Asia and North America, and land me in Oregon, where my family and I now call home.

Next, came creative services, which converged with professional photography. As an accomplished marketer with a honed eye for commercial imagery, serving active lifestyle brands with high-impact photography became a new purpose and a natural fit.

Today, I specialize in:

- Photography & videography for brand and product marketing
- Lifestyle imagery for the athletic & outdoor industries
- Architecture & interiors for the design and construction trades
- Portraits & headshots
- Documentary coverage of special events
- FAA-licensed sUAS drone/aerial imagery

If you're seeking a creative partner who understands not just imagery, but the brand and business objectives behind it — let's talk.
